MISS LITTLE EARTH AUSTRALIA 2023

Serena Antonia PERALTA

Since a young age, Serena has been a passionate advocate for recycling and sustainability. Each month, she can be seen at the recycling centre collecting cans, bottles, cartons, and plastic, which she turns into savings to fund her environmental advocacy. She has a strong affinity for community cleanups, often organising Saturday walks where the community comes together to pick up litter and keep their surroundings clean. Her ambitions extend beyond her environmental efforts. She aspires to become a pilot, driven by her desire to travel the world and gain a deeper understanding of diverse cultures and values. Ellie Marie BOJARSKI

- Best in What I Want to Be Fashion
- Best in Evening Long Gown
- Best in Environmental Speech
- Miss Photogenic

Ellie was born on January 10, 2011, at Campbelltown Hospital. She has an older brother who turned two in March of the same year. Tragically, Ellie's mother passed away when she was only five weeks old, leaving both children in the care of their grandparents. Then, when Ellie was five years old, her father also passed away, leaving them orphaned. Despite these challenges, Ellie's loving grandparents ensured the kids had as normal a childhood as possible. At the age of three, Ellie enrolled in a dancing school and participated in Jazz, tap, and ballet classes until recently when she decided to switch to soccer, which she now plays. She was offered a place in the gifted program at school due to her soccer skills.

Ellie's grandmother always involves her in community work, such as volunteering at the Cancer Council of NSW and participating in Relay for Life events. She also takes part in FilOz group activities and events. In 2016, Ellie was one of the founding kids representing the Philippines at the Children's Festival of Sydney. Her talents and beauty have also been recognized, as she won three awards in the Starcentral magazine Covergirl search and has worked as a model. 2015 Ellie earned a beauty pageant title at the Talent Quest in Melbourne. Furthermore, she received an award from Global United International, USA for her dedicated support to the Cancer Council of NSW, starting from the young age of two. She was awarded the title of Queen for Kids Lifetime Ambassador in 2016 for her efforts in raising awareness for childhood cancer. Most recently, Ellie was crowned Miss Junior Earth Australia 2023.

"I want to be a registered nurse like my grandma because as I grow up, I have seen how nurses worked very hard to save people's lives. We see more nurses than doctors in hospitals and clinics they cared so much with passion and dedication to all patients and human beings. My grandma already taught me all about the skeletons in our body and I like learning because it's very interesting.

I joined the pageant because I'm very shy, had low self-esteem and I don't like talking to people. I just want to be with my cousins, especially Sienna. Grandma won Mrs. Classic Earth 2020 in Europe and I really just want to win anything at the pageant like grandma without expecting too much because this is my first pageant, and it's scary. Now that I won Miss Junior Earth 2023, I thank everyone on my new journey to continue my advocacy in recycling."

She has a mixed ethnic background, including Australian, Irish, Filipino, and Spanish heritage. Her maternal great-great-grandmother, Leonor Alava Martinez, is related to the 13th Duchess of Alba in Spain, which grants Donita the title of Duchessa de Alaba on her birth certificate. Furthermore, her grandfather, Enrique Soler, served as the CEO of a Spanish gaming casino in the Philippines during the 1960s. Donita learned about this fascinating family history through her grandmother, who repeatedly shared stories about their past.

Donita wants to thank Via & BC Accessories Outlet for sponsoring her gown.

"I like sports. Not only that, but I used to do little athletics and gymnastics, and I'm good at swimming but now I'm doing Brazilian Jujitsu and contemporary dancing. I am passionate about the environment. Helping my dad in the garden picking fruits and veggies is one of the things I love doing. I also love to do my makeup, clothes, and fashion. I shouldn't forget to mention that I have a very cute dog, named Maple who is a toy poodle.

One of my goals is to become an app designer because I'm good at computer coding and design online. Not only that, but I'm very talented at designing online work and I designed a magazine at school that got framed and featured as one of the best magazines in the class.

I want to show that a pageant is much deeper than beauty. I want to advocate for a good cause. I'd like to promote, educate and help people, spread awareness and kindness to our community and people in need."
